

Stop throwing dollars in the dumpster! Learn how to turn recyclable resources into cash at our free training session. Zero Waste San Diego is a group of local recycling experts offering guidance to Ocean Beach businesses and residents for cutting costs and improving our community through an exciting new resource management program.

What: Ocean Beach Zero Waste Workshop

A FREE, hands-on session covering:

- The history of wasting and recycling
- Fundamentals of zero waste
- Implementing zero waste programs in Ocean Beach that will improve our global environment, create jobs, and stimulate the local economy
- The twelve categories of discarded resources

When: Saturday, May 19th - From 9AM to 4PM

Where: Point Loma Nazarene University
Bond Academic Center
3900 Lomaland Dr., San Diego 92106

Why: Mismanagement of our discarded resources (aka garbage) threatens both the quality of our environment and sustainability of our economy. Global warming, polluted air and water, destruction of soil health, and wasted money are all results of poor resource management.

Zero waste offers a way to recapture the vigor of our air, water and land, and maximize our resources, creating jobs and a better economy in the process.

Who could possibly debate these benefits?

You have been identified as a forward-thinking community leader, business owner with the foresight and integrity to join this movement, or concerned citizen willing to preserve OB's progressive culture. Please join us!

How: Please RSVP to Chelsea Klaseus at chelseaklaseus@hotmail.com or 619-813-4064